

There Was a King and He Had Three Daughters

There was a king
And he had three daughters,
And they all lived
In a basin of water.

The basin bended,
My story's ended.
If the basin had been stronger
My story would have been longer.